

Crypto-Finance

I had my friend explore the bitcoin website, <http://www.cryptonames.com/> to see how she interacted with it and liked it.

Needs less animation

- There was quite a bit of animation with the scrolling which my friend did not like because at first it was fun but after a while, it got annoying for her

Needs a clearer navigation

- My friend actually found a small hidden navigation menu that I didn't even see myself. But that navigation menu was hidden in a small dot in the right corner that you had to click in order for it to show up.
- The color of the menu also wasn't very ideal as it was grey text on top of green/blue, which makes it hard to read

Needs small interface

- My friend uses a small 11" MacBook Air, and this site actually has quite a large design interface which makes it hard to see and read on smaller computers. On large computers it looks great and absolutely beautiful but on smaller ones, one line of text or one picture can take up the whole screen for her.
